Emily (Yue) Wang

PhD student, Department of Political Science
Susan Welch Liberal Arts Building · 137 Fischer Rd · University Park, PA 16802
emilywang@psu.edu emily-yuewang.github.io

Education

Pennsylvania State University, Ph.D. in Political Science and Social Data Analytics Expected 2031
Pennsylvania State University, M.A. in Political Science Expected 2028
Wake Forest University, B.S. Statistics with a second major in Politics & International Affairs 2026

Principal Interests

Interstate conflicts, security dilemma, post-conflict recovery, formal models, network analysis, and machine learning

Skills

Technical: R programming language (proficient)
Language: Mandarin Chinese (native), English (full professional proficiency)

Grants & Fellowships

MacKnight Scholarship. 2026. Pennsylvania State University Department of Political Sciecne. $1,500 one-time start-up IR scholarship.

Justin Esarey (Advisor), Edith Carrascal, Elizabeth Elliot, Lucas Kinney, and Emily Wang (Student Collaborators). 2026. URECA Open Opportunity Grant. $3400 to fund collection of survey data.

Justin Esarey (Advisor), Emily Wang (Student Collaborator). 2025. Wake Forest Research Fellowship for ten weeks of summer research collaboration. $4,000 plus housing expenses during the program.

Publications

Journal Articles

Books

Softwares

Faculty Workload Estimator (version 0.35b uploaded October 3, 2025). URL: http://bit.ly/4h1Jaga. As of Aug. 18, 2026, this software has been used 289 times (as measured by Google Analytics).

Description: This software asks users to enter information about their work tasks in a guided, systematic way. It then reports the total hourly workload associated with those work tasks and visualizes the distribution of that workload over the course of a semester.

Memberships

Pi Sigma Alpha, Alumni - Zeta Nu Chapter

References

Available upon request, though likely would include Justin Esarey and Bruce Desmarais.